(a) what is the extent of subsidy provided by Government to finance the Integrated Rural Development Programme and in what manner it varies from State to State;

(b) whether there have been any instances where funds provided for IRDP were diverted by the State Governments for other programmes, if so, what are the details thereof; and

(c) what is the existing machinery, if any, to check the diversion of funds provided for IRDP?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF RURAL DEVELOPMENT (SHRI CHANDULAL CHANDRAKAR): (a) to (d) The extent of subsidy admissible for different categories of beneficiaries under the Integrated Rural Development Programme (IRDP) may be seen in the Statement. This is uniform in all the States/Union Territories.

Some instances of diversion of funds for other purposes/schemes have been brought out in the report of the Comptroller & Auditor General of India for 1983-84. [See Appendix CXXXV, Annexure No. 38.]

The existing guidelines provide for a report by the Chartered Accountant on the accounts of the DRDAs every year and test check by the Comptroller & Auditor General of India. The check points prescribed for the Chartered Accountant include a certificate whether the expenditure is on the approved lines. Action is taken on any diversion figuring in the above reports. These are supplemented by field visits of Area Officers of the Ministry and Central teams wherever necessary.
